ENERGY STAR® Window Air Conditioner - $30

A majority of the window air conditioners sold in Nebraska are NOT ENERGY STAR® qualified. Why? Customers don't often understand the additional benefits of purchasing these qualified products over the standard models. ENERGY STAR® qualified products meet strict energy efficiency guidelines set by the EPA and DOE.

What does ENERGY STAR® qualified mean to you?

- Window air conditioners that use at least 10% less energy than conventional models.
- Products that often include timers for better temperature control, allowing you to use the minimum amount of energy you need to cool your room.
- After utilizing the EnergyWise incentive of $30, the additional cost to you in purchasing an ENERGY STAR® qualified model is often returned back to you shortly through the energy savings you can realize.

The process is simple – follow these easy steps:

- Fill out the application on this brochure
- Attach a copy of your purchase receipt for the ENERGY STAR® qualified window air conditioner
- Sign the application
- Send the application to your electric utility provider
 - Your utility will either provide you a billing credit or a check
 - Please allow several weeks for processing

Incentives valid as of 4-1-09, subject to change without notice, verify current incentive amounts and program information at www.nppd.com. These EnergyWise programs are only available to customers of NPPD and customers of its wholesale utilities.
